Dear Customer:

Effective March 15, 2010, Spartech Plastics will implement a price increase of $0.12/lb for all TPO sheet products. This increase is needed to offset the continuing rise in raw materials used in the production of TPO resins.

Your Spartech sales representative is available to answer any questions and discuss further details about this price increase.

Spartech Plastics appreciates and values the business you place with us and will continue to work to do everything possible to control costs and minimize the financial impact on your business.

Sincerely,

Gary Orenstein
Sales Manager – Central Region
