

June 2, 2009

Customer
Address
City, State & Zip Code

Dear Valued Customer:

The softness in raw material costs the last few months appears to have reached bottom and key chemical components are now beginning to increase to more traditional levels. As a result of this upward activity, it is necessary for Spartech Plastics to implement an 8% sales price increase in Sungard® and PC-2000® polycarbonate sheet products effective with shipments on and after July 1, 2009. This announcement serves as a revision to the previously announced 6% for May.

Your Spartech Account Manager is available to answer any questions and discuss further details regarding this price increase. This increase is in addition to all previously published increases.

We appreciate and value the business you place with us, and thank you for your continued support and consideration of Spartech Plastics and our sheet products.

Sincerely,

Spartech Plastics

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "John Hirsch".

John Hirsch
Product Manager – Acrylic & Polycarbonate